Most of the Nuclear Fuel was dug up in Wyoming. Wyoming is a more stable state for earth quakes than Nevada. The same way the material came out - it should be put back. Distribute it in a way that it becomes harmless or is this impossible because it is now hot.

Why store it? IT is a problem that should be solved now not be put off for future generations to deal with it. Why are not more practical solutions for nuclear waste being worked out? No profit in it?

To ship Nuclear Waste to Nevada will be a hazardous Task. Many of the cities on the routes will be subject to a Nuclear waste spill. What happens then? If it not safe where it is at — where is a safe place for it? Certainly not Yucca Mountain. The people in that area have suffered enough from the atomic bomb testing - why unload this onto them too?

Please note: For your comment(s) to be considered by the Secretary of Energy before a decision is made whether to recommend the site to the President, your comment(s) need to be received by the U.S. Department of Energy by September 20, 2001. To the extent practicable, the Department will consider comments received after September 20, 2001.

Please feel free to attach additional pages; more postage may be needed. If you prefer to mail your comments, you may use the back side of this sheet as a postage-paid, self-mailer. To do so, fold in thirds along the dotted line so address and postage-paid notice are visible, then secure with tape.
