1 We live in the city of Colimesa in Riverside County, a half mile off the I 10 Freeway. This is the busiest freeway in the United States and the proposal to use it as a route to ship nuclear waste through the area is dangerously unwise.

Just yesterday a truck and trailer rig turned over on the freeway in Colimesa and blocked and slowed down traffic for over 3 hours. The potential for disaster is alarming! Trucks consistently exceed the speed limit, often traveling 70 miles per hour.

* What would anyone even think of transporting nuclear waste through this area considering the population of California and the volume of vehicles that travel the I 10 freeway. Already, at certain peak times of the day, gridlock occurs. Think about it!! The routes proposed just do not make good sense.

Please reconsider,

Sincerely,

Brian and Beverly James
