GENERAL COMMENTS

I attended a tour of the Yucca Mt. Site on 9/22/01. It was impressive - especially the scientific studies of the stability of the geologic area. The facts are 1 - We have spent fuel and need to dispose of it.
2 - Yucca Mt. is the only site studied.
3 - It will come to Yucca Mt - even though we, who live here, do not want it.

I also learned that by the time this site is completed, there will be enough radioactive waste and spent nuculear fuel to fill the site. What will happen then?
1. Will authorization be given to store more of this waste at the Yucca Mt. site?
2. Will the site be expanded?
3. Will we be the only dumping ground for the nations radioactive waste?

Because of those questions - I am against going any further with the "study."
