Dear Ms Dixon,

You have asked for public comment upon the subject of the Nevada spent fuel repository proposal.

I have, for a number of years, read results of studies on the suitability of the area, and I believe these studies to be honest and correct appraisals. As a mining engineer of 40 years experience I believe I can judge the results impartially.

I have visited similar dry strata in salt mines, and am convinced that drainage into nearby water tables would not be a problem.

If the public can be assured that no one is about to turn off the lights and forget the facility, then there is every reason to go ahead.

I support the proposal.

Yours sincerely,

W. A. Brandon.
