 To whom it may concern,

I am opposed to the sanctioning of sites for long term storage of nuclear waste. These substances have a radioactive life beyond the feasible planning of current human society. By advocating the existence of sanctioned possible sites, we are advocating the feasibility of nuclear power. The waste generated by such a means of power production can not be feasibly dealt with. That is why the concern for the approval of Yucca mountain is so great.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Evans
