I am against the permanent waste storage site being located at the Yucca Mountain site. I am very concerned about the economic and infrastructure impact that the shipping of nuclear waste would have on the Las Vegas valley if there should be an accident with a truck or train carrying the nuclear waste through the Las Vegas Valley area. If you think that is not feasible, I urge you to pull the records of nuclear transportation accidents that already exist and apply traffic statistics and container damage probabilities and you will see why I have a very valid point. Transportation of nuclear wastes have never been attempted on a scale such as this. As well as, all the preliminary testing on the site cannot determine what the long term effects of the storage will be. There have been many instances in the past where storage of nuclear waste was thought to be safe according to the science of the day, and turned out not to be after all, and the area suffered because of it. I do not want to be the subject of the experiment and I think it is unfair and not representative of the de
